

YRC Worldwide Inc.

Management Biography

James G. Kissinger

Executive Vice President, Human Resources
YRC Worldwide

As Executive Vice President, Human Resources for YRC Worldwide, Jim Kissinger is responsible for all aspects of the enterprise's human resources initiatives, including compensation and benefits, talent management, leadership and employee development, and diversity. Kissinger joined the enterprise in January 2008.

Prior to YRC Worldwide, Kissinger was Senior Vice President, Corporate Operations for AirCell, with responsibilities that included employee communications, organizational design, human resources and development, and the government and regulatory functions supporting the company's broadband services. Kissinger also led the Human Resources organization for Sprint Nextel and served in human resources and labor relations roles at Beatrice Foods, Lipton Tea and Pepsi Cola General Bottlers.

Kissinger earned his degree in labor and industrial relations from Rockhurst University in Kansas City, MO.