Management Biography

Scott D. Ware

Chief Network Officer, YRC Worldwide
President, Holland

Scott Ware is Chief Network Officer of YRC Worldwide (YRCW), the holding company for a portfolio of less-than-truckload (LTL) companies including YRC Freight, YRC Reimer, Holland, Reddaway, and New Penn. He was named to the position in October, 2018. He also serves as President of Holland, a position he has held since 2012. Ware joined Holland in 2007.

Ware has more than 35 years of freight transportation experience, with proven expertise in linehaul-network optimization and planning. As VP of Operations at Holland, he led multiple performance-improvement initiatives and service enhancements while re-engineering the freight flow network. Those changes allowed Holland to remain a leader in providing regional LTL services as the tenth-largest LTL carrier in the US. Holland's network consists of 53 terminals and over 8,000 employees servicing the Midwest and Southeast.

Ware earned a bachelor of science degree from the University of North Carolina at Charlotte. He began his transportation career while in college as a part-time dock worker. He entered Roadway's management training program as an employee of its Spartan Express subsidiary. He progressed through senior leadership positions at both corporate and field levels, gaining extensive experience in the LTL industry through roles in operations, sales, and administrative management.

Headquartered in Overland Park, Kan., YRCW has one of the most comprehensive LTL networks in North America, with local, regional, national, and international capabilities. The YRCW companies offer industry-leading expertise in flexible supply chain solutions, ensuring customers can ship industrial, commercial and retail goods with confidence.
